

Big Four Deadlock Averted

THE WIND DID IT: Masons are busy repairing the damage to this concrete block building which blew down some time last night from 68-mile-an-hour winds. One wall collapsed inward and the other outward at Bannatyne Ave. —Photo by Gordon Aikman.

Near-Hurricane Gusts Cause Extensive Damage

Violent wind gusts just below hurricane force and accompanied by driving rain lashed Greater Winnipeg early today causing widespread damage to property, but no injuries.

Over half an inch of rain fell on the city during the past 24 hours. The weatherman, who had predicted a high of 80 degrees with sunshine for Sunday, said he was fooled by a fast-moving low pressure area which came up after his original predictions Saturday to spoil the weekend for many travellers.

The local meteorological office measured wind gusts early today at 68 miles an hour. Hurricane force begins with winds steady at 75 miles an hour.

Damage was reported from all over Greater Winnipeg. In addition to telephone wires which came down, the following incidents of damage were reported:

- A light aircraft, anchored to 125-pound concrete weights at Stevenson Field, was flipped over on its back.
- A large chain store at McPhillips and Lansdowne was damaged, police report.
- A 35-foot-long steel sign board at Isabel St., near Bannatyne Ave., toppled into the back yard of a home and extended into the roadway by 10 feet. Crews cleared it this morning.
- A soft-drink cooler located outside a St. Vital service station was shoved over by the wind and badly damaged.
- Workmen arrived at a concrete block building under construction at 56 Myrtle St. this morning to find two walls down.

Fatal Windstorm

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — A twisting windstorm hit the outskirts of Ann Arbor today. Preliminary reports indicated one woman had been electrocuted, two houses set on fire and several damaged.

INDEX

New Price Props	P. 3
Standardized Road Signs Soon	P. 4
Manitoba Politics	P. 5
People In The News	P. 7
Finance	P. 21-22
Editorials	P. 6
Sports	P. 17-20
Classified	P. 23-28
Entertainment	P. 9
Women's	P. 12-14
Comics	P. 16-11
Radio, TV	P. 8
Obituaries	P. 29

Both the Manitoba Telephone System and the Manitoba Power Commission report wires down but service was interrupted for only moments. Everything was reported back to normal before noon today.

Cooler weather is now on the way for Greater Winnipeg with even frost forecast for some parts of rural Manitoba tonight or Tuesday night. Temperatures are expected to drop to 35 around Winnipeg and about 30 degrees outside the city. The north-west flow of cool air will bring a high of 50 degrees for the forecast area today, with clearer skies Tuesday.

Manitoba Politics

Attack on Socialists Sparks Sharp Fight

By JIM HAYES
Tribune Staff Writer

When Conservative candidate Richard Seaborn scratches the surface of a CCFer, he sees red.

He sees little difference between a socialist and a Communist, and he is convinced that the CCF presents one of the province's greatest menaces. "They'll offer you anything and then take away the only things that really matter."

He hasn't hesitated to make his views public and his attacks on the socialists has sparked in Wellington constituency, where Mr. Seaborn seeks re-election, one of the sharpest scraps in the current provincial campaign.

Last year, newcomer Seaborn won the seat by a scant 147 votes over CCF candidate James McIsaac, who is the main challenger again this time.

If Mr. Seaborn loses the seat this time, and the CCF and some Liberals say he will, the loss may be due to the sharpness of his attack on the socialists.

Responding to the Seaborn challenge, a group of CCF supporters from United College have rolled through Wellington on a series of door-rapping forays and CCF backers claim they may spell the difference in this campaign.

Last year, Wellington was written off by the CCF strategists. They tallied it as a Conservative seat and gave Mr. McIsaac little help. They were surprised by the closeness of the contest and vowed they wouldn't make the same mistake again.

Mr. Seaborn entered last year's election campaign with a good group of experienced campaigners. They knew how to get out the vote and under their candidate's able Portage la Prairie received the most rain during the past 24 hours — more than one and a half inches. Rain fell in scattered areas across the province but still kept falling in sections of land which did not need it.

Advance Poll Vote Lighter

A brief sampling of advance poll voting today indicates Thursday's provincial vote may be lighter than expected.

Seven out of nine returning officers reported extremely small turnouts at the advance polls last Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Despite favorable weather conditions, the vote in many cases was down about 50 percent from last year's total.

The advance poll results run counter to recent predictions of a heavy vote by most political observers. Last June 16 a record 60 percent of eligible voters cast ballots. Most observers this year are predicting an even heavier vote, with additional ballots favoring election of Conservative candidates in some areas.

Advance voting was heavier last year in only two of the nine ridings. In Kildonan, where CCF and Tory candidates are waging a close battle, 35 voters showed up at the advance poll compared with 23 last year. In Brokenhead, where no advance vote was registered last June, four voters cast early ballots this year.

Totals from other constituencies, with last year's figure in brackets, are: Assiniboia — 16 (18); St. Boniface — 20 (34); Selkirk — 12 (24); St. Vital — 20 (39); Winnipeg Centre — 14 (28); Burrows — 4 (15); and St. John's — 11 (24).

(Continued on Page 2)

Heavier Raps To Juveniles Urged by FBI

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sterner treatment of youthful law-breakers, including full public disclosure of their identities, has been urged before congress by FBI director J. Edgar Hoover.

In recent testimony made public Sunday by the House of Representatives appropriations committee, Hoover delivered a sharp indictment of the way juvenile offenders are handled.

"We can no longer afford to let 'tender age' make plunder into a trifling prank, reduce mayhem to a mischievous act and pass off murder as a boyish misdemeanor," he said.

Hoover rapped those social workers and juvenile court authorities who have strong views against disclosing the names of juvenile offenders.

"I see no reason for secrecy," Hoover declared.

"Youth should not be treated cruelly, but when they do not measure up to their responsibility of obeying the law, they must be made to accept the responsibility for their acts."

Russian Soldiers Reported in Tibet

CALCUTTA, India (AP)—Travelers from Tibet said today Soviet troops had entered that mountain kingdom to help Chinese Communist troops put down the revolt led by Khamba tribesmen.

These reports, which lack official confirmation, said about 250 Soviet officers and men were seen in a convoy that arrived at Gyantse, south of the Tibetan capital of Lhasa.

Estranged Father Blocks Move to Baptize Youngster

TORONTO (CP) — A 10-year-old boy whose father took court action to prevent him being accepted into the Roman Catholic Church, went to school today still an Anglican.

Mrs. Doreen Thomas, the boy's mother, said the baptism of her son, Brian Thomas, did not take place Sunday as intended. "I can't say any more until I see my lawyer," she added.

The boy's father, Philip John Thomas, had filed a writ at Os-

Captain of Capsized Vessel Is Charged With Negligence

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Between 4,000 and 5,000 persons shuffled silently along Cairo's main streets Sunday mourning those who were drowned Friday in the sinking of the Nile riverboat Dandara.

Army engineers, navy frogmen and Suez Canal divers worked meanwhile to retrieve the bodies of victims. The salvage men have recovered 70 bodies.

Officials said about 75 persons are missing. The captain of the riverboat was arrested Saturday and charged with negligence in the sinking.

Officials accused Capt. Abdul Hafiz Ali Hammad of allowing the boat to be loaded beyond its legal capacity. They also blamed a sudden leak for the tragedy.

Steelmen Want Four-Day Week

32-Hour Work Plan Once a Month Proposed to Fight Unemployment

New York Times Service

NEW YORK — A four-day, 32-hour work week every fourth week is one of the pivotal demands the United Steelworkers of America intends to press in its streamlined negotiations with the steel industry here today.

Union sources disclosed that the plan presented a main element in the union's program for combating unemployment and increasing job security in the steel mills.

City Pays Out $3,000 For Dues

The city of Winnipeg pays nearly $3,000 a year in memberships for 77 city employees who belong to various service clubs and professional and trade associations.

The figures were included in a report called for by Alderman Slav Rebuch which has been sent to all members of council.

Ald. Rebuch had called for the list of membership fees paid by the city following council's action in payment of fees for three top-ranking civil servants in the Manitoba Club. It was alleged that the Manitoba Club discriminated against certain persons and, therefore, it was not proper for the city to pay memberships in the club for its civil servants.

To Discontinue

Memberships in the Manitoba Club will be discontinued, as far as city payment goes, as of Jan. 1, 1960.

The report on membership fees shows that 77 city workers have their memberships paid to 112 organizations — although many of them belong to the same club.

Charles Swinford, customers' service manager for City Hydro, holds the greatest number of city-paid memberships. He belongs to eight clubs which have a total membership fee of $738.50.

Highest membership recorded in the list is $250-a-year fee for the Winnipeg Homebuilders' Association.

Most of the 77 employees belong to only one organization.

Sees No Cuts

Report on the memberships does not indicate any move by council to cut them down, but was, according to Ald. Rebuch, simply information for council to set the whole matter of city-paid memberships in perspective.

Ald. Peter Taraska said he doubted whether the report would result in any action by council since all the clubs and organizations mentioned in the list were ones which the city needed for good public relations and information purposes, to keep the city up to date on what is going on and where it is going on.

Separate Tables Solve Stalemate

BULLETIN

GENEVA (CP) — The first session of the East-West foreign ministers' conference ended tonight after 45 minutes.

Compiled from Dispatches

GENEVA — The Big Four foreign ministers' conference was set for tonight, 3½ hours late, after running aground for a time on the question of how the East and West German governments should participate.

The first session of the conference was scheduled for the Palais des Nations at 2.30 p.m. Instead, the foreign ministers got together informally at a British villa.

From this meeting Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko emerged with the announcement the formal session was set for 6 p.m. (11 a.m. MDT).

Under the agreed formula the Germans are advisers and not full participants as demanded by the Russians.

Ministers Can Object

If either the East or West German representative desires to speak, the conference chairman will ask whether any of the Big Four foreign ministers has any objections. If there are none, the floor will be given to the Germans.

The Soviet foreign minister told reporters:

"There has been complete agreement on all procedural and administrative matters."

Asked whether this included agreement on the German participation issue, he said: "Yes, this includes the German question."

Gromyko said the session was scheduled for 6 p.m.

An American spokesman said the East and West German delegations would be present at separate tables as advisers at the opening session.

It was a solution of "separate tables." At least for the opening session, the East and West German delegations were allotted seats at separate tables in the capacity of consultants — as the West had insisted.

Gromyko announced after an hour's behind-the-scenes talks with the Western foreign ministers at British delegation headquarters that agreement had been reached.

An American spokesman described this afternoon's agreement on the tables.

Seating Plan

"The German delegations, who are to be considered as advisers throughout the conference, will be placed as follows: The East German table beside the Russian delegates and the West German table beside the United States.

"The French will sit on the left (Continued on Page 2)

Balance of Power

German Output Is Focal Point

By SYDNEY GRUSON
New York Times Service

There are plenty of men in the news at the Geneva conference and, for the first time since the war, there is even a table in the news — should the Geneva table be round or square? — but the main thing is the country in the news: Germany.

What the foreign ministers are arguing about in Geneva is not the shape of a table but the shape of the civilization of Europe. They were arguing about the power of Germany and its capacity to determine the balance of power between the Communist and non-Communist worlds.

The basic facts of German power explain the struggle. It is a country of 71,500,000 people, 18,000,000 of them living in the 41,380 square miles of Communist East Germany and 53,500,000 in the 85,690 square miles of non-Communist West Germany.

It is not just a question of pople but also the things these people make and the resources they possess or have developed that add up to power in the modern world.

Production Figures

For the last year in which comparative figures are available, 1957, these were some of the facts:

West Germany produced 165,000,000 tons of coal, East Germany 80,000,000. West Germany produced 24,000,000 tons of steel, East Germany 3,000,000. West Germany produced 95,000,000 kilowatt hours of electricity, East Germany 33,000,000,000.

The two Germanys produce more coal than the rest of Western Europe together. Their steel and electricity output in each case totals more than half of the West European production.

The Germans today live between an eastern frontier with Poland on the Oder and Neisse rivers (provisional until a peace treaty is concluded) and a western frontier with France.

(Continued on Page 2)

Herter, Gromyko, Lloyd

Who Will Be Titans In Diplomacy Duels?

By The Associated Press

The titans of the post-war diplomatic duels — Molotov, Dulles, Eden and Bidault — are in political obscurity or retirement.

The world is waiting to see how their successors will measure up in dealing with some of the crucial problems now facing them.

Christian Herter of the United States, Andrei Gromyko of the Soviet Union, Selwyn Lloyd of Britain and Maurice Couve de Murville of France are experienced diplomats but none has led his country's delegation at a Big Four parley before.

Herter, 64, is the dean of the group in age but the least experienced in international negotiations. Gromyko at 49 is the youngest but also the veteran of the most conference tables. Lloyd is 54 and Couve de Murville 52.

Russia's iron-visaged Gromyko once was called the boy wonder of the diplomatic world. Dark, heavy-set and square-shouldered, he is a veteran of Kremlin politics under Stalin, Malenkov and Khrushchev. Much of his career has been spent in the United States, at the Soviet Embassy in Washington and at the United Nations headquarters. He has been foreign minister since 1957.

Herter has had only a few weeks to move out from under the shadow of John Foster Dulles. He still is largely an unknown quantity to the Russians and America's allies.

Lanky Couve de Murville has served France in diplomatic posts since the Second World War but has just begun to make international headlines. He has turned in a top-flight job on assignments ranging from secretary of the Free French "war commission" to trouble-shooter for then foreign minister George Bidault and ambassador to Washington and Bonn.

Selwyn Lloyd moved into his foreign office in 1955 in the wake of one of the outstanding foreign secretaries Britain has produced this century — Sir Anthony Eden.

U.K. Authorizes Planes For Iraq

LONDON (Reuters) — Britain has agreed to issue the necessary export licences for the supply of a limited number of airplanes to Iraq, the House of Commons was told today.

John Profumo, minister of state for foreign affairs, added that the government also has told Iraq it is ready to authorize negotiations for delivery of a "reasonable" quantity of arms, including tanks.

Profumo said Iraq traditionally looked upon Britain to supply it with arms.

Earlier this year, Iraqi Premier Abdul Karim Kassem had asked whether the British government would be willing to authorize fur-

(Continued on Page 2)